

City and Neighborhood

THE FUNERAL of Mrs. Martha Proctor, who died several days ago, was held yesterday from the Union ward meeting house. The interment was in South Cottonwood cemetery. Elder James H. Proctor officiating. The deceased leaves five children, twenty-four grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

LUCILLE BARTON, known in the underworld as "Big Lucille," entered a plea of not guilty in Judge Dierks' court yesterday when brought on the charge of grand larceny. The woman is alleged to have stolen $400, besides some jewelry, from one Frank Adams. She was arrested in Ogden.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in this city individual communion cups will be used at the services in the First Congregational church today. The innovation is based on sound hygienic principles.

"PINK EYE" is the name of a disease said to be prevalent among Salt Lake school children. The disease attacks the eyes, and consists in an inflamed condition of the organ. It is said to be due to the cold winds, and is not considered dangerous if the eyes are not over-used.

EMANUEL RAUCH of Bingham died here on Friday night at St. Mark's hospital from the results of a fall. He had not been in Utah very long and was not very well known, except that he made a lucky strike in the coal mines near Bingham Junction not long ago. He apparently had no relatives in the West and did not belong to any church. Attempts are being made to locate his relatives before any definite arrangements about the funeral are made.

AN UNKNOWN WOMAN was robbed of her pocketbook containing $30 on Second East street, near St. Mary's cathedral, about 5 o'clock last evening. The woman was walking alone on the street, when a man came up behind her and snatched the pocketbook from her hand. The thief ran into the alley near the cathedral and was soon lost to view. A boy was sent to the police station to give the alarm, when Capt. Burbridge went in search of the thief. He thought the man was in the alley, but he was not there. He is making a tour of the country with his wife and combining business with pleasure. They are now on their way East from the coast.

SENATOR THOMAS KEARNS has sent the following list of nominations for midshipmen at Annapolis to the academy officials: Principal, John H. Hillebrand, Ogden; first alternate, W. W. Hillebrand, Ogden; second alternate, J. B. Evans, Ogden; third alternate, Paul West Stevenson, Salt Lake City. The nomination of T. W. Hall was refused because the young man did not come within the age limit.

FUNERAL SERVICES over the remains of William B. Smedley, who died at Detroit, Mich., were held yesterday afternoon from the residence of his father, 914 East South Temple street.

CHURCH and Sunday-school choirs of the First Baptist church, assisted by Mrs. A. D. Melvin, will give a musical programme next Sunday evening, April 4th. Everyone is invited.

EMPLOYEES of the Salt Lake Candy company will give their fourth annual ball at Christensen's April 4th, and the committee in charge of the affair promises that it will be as enjoyable as those given previously, which means a good time for all who are present. A handsome candy conveyor will be presented to every person attending.

ARTICLES of incorporation of the Western Health and Sheet Metal Works, organized in this city, were filed yesterday in the office of the County Clerk. The capital stock of the company is $5000, divided into shares of the par value of $10 each. The following are the officers: William W. Edwards, president; John H. Jones, vice-president; W. M. A. Jones, secretary; Joseph J. Kjar, treasurer.

THE WESTERN Steam Laundry company of Ogden filed articles of incorporation in the office of the Secretary of State yesterday. The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of stock of the face value of $100 each. The officers are as follows: W. M. A. Jones, president; William Minor, vice-president; Walter E. Heller, secretary; Farley Draney, treasurer.

KNUTSFORD HOTEL. The one place for comfort and elegance. Fireproof; telephones in every room; modern in every way.

D. J. Sharp Coal Co. Office, 73 South Main street. Telephone 79 and 490. Rock Springs and Cumberland lump, nut and slack.

A French Process Of laundering lace curtains enables us to do the most perfect work in the city. Thinking of cleaning house this spring? TROY LAUNDRY, 156 Main street.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. E. B. Isgruen came back from Winter Quarters last night.

Frank Hausman, a well-known merchant from Soldier, Ida., is stopping at the Wilson.

Dr. W. T. Gleason, who has been doing relief duty down at the coal fields in Carbon county, came up from Scofield yesterday for a couple of days' recreation.

H. C. Hoar, a leading man of Halley, Ida., came to Salt Lake for a business visit yesterday. He will be stopping at the Wilson until the middle of next week.

Lloyd T. King, district organizer of the Knights of Pythias, from Portland, came to the Wilson yesterday and expects to be here for a few days looking up friends and brother Knights.

J. M. Fisher, Jr., son of County Auditor Fisher, is suffering with a severe attack of typhoid fever. The young man has been confined to his bed for the past week, but his condition is not serious.

George Moore, the well-known mining man of Mercur, has just returned from the East. He had been to New York to organize a company and had come back with a lot of money. He is a telegraph containing news that his father was dying, and only got back last night. He is stopping at the Wilson.

$2.00 TELEPHONES

For Residences.

Unlimited service.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Impossible.

It is impossible for us to describe the many handsome designs in our endless variety of handsome spring shirts. Come in and see them in all their beauty.

BROWN, TERRY & WOODRUFF CO., 166 Main street.

If your clock or watch don't keep correct time, have it fixed. Phone 69 for the correct time, Leyson's.

DR. GARRISON IS DEAD AFTER A LONG FIGHT FOR LIFE

Dr. Charles M. Garrison, one of the most popular and widely-known physicians of this city, died yesterday afternoon of cerebral meningitis, at the home of Dr. T. B. Beatty, 509 East First South street. For many years Dr. Garrison has suffered with an affection of the brain, which ended in his death. He was taken with an acute attack while visiting with his friend, Dr. Beatty, on Thursday morning, and although everything possible was done to relieve his pain he suffered excruciatingly until death came.

The deceased was born in Newburg, N. Y., about forty-five years ago, and came to Salt Lake City in 1893. He was a personal friend of Gov. Odger of New York, and his father was a prominent physician of New York City. Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Charles M. Garrison, one of the most popular and widely-known physicians of this city, died yesterday afternoon of cerebral meningitis, at the home of Dr. T. B. Beatty, 509 East First South street. For many years Dr. Garrison has suffered with an affection of the brain, which ended in his death. He was taken with an acute attack while visiting with his friend, Dr. Beatty, on Thursday morning, and although everything possible was done to relieve his pain he suffered excruciatingly until death came.

The deceased was born in Newburg, N. Y., about forty-five years ago, and came to Salt Lake City in 1893. He was a personal friend of Gov. Odger of New York, and his father was a prominent physician of New York City. Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Dr. Garrison was a well-known practitioner in New York when, about twelve years ago, ill health compelled him to seek a change of climate. A trip to Europe in no way benefited him, and with his mother and aunt he came to Utah. These relatives died about five years ago, leaving Dr. Garrison practically without kin. He had never married, and his only near relative is Edward Gridley, a cousin, living in Brooklyn, who is now on his way here. Dr. Garrison made his home here with Mrs. La Forge, 443 East First South street, an old friend of the family.

The deceased was a man beloved by all who knew him. Possessed of a kindly nature, he made it his mission in life to help others, and although he suffered almost continually, he was ever cheerful and had a smile ever ready to relieve his pain. He was a physician, and besides attending to a large practice he had been recently acting as State medical inspector. He was extensively interested in investments here and leaves a large estate in New York. His cousin, Mr. Gridley, cannot arrive here before Wednesday, and it is not likely that the funeral will occur until his arrival. Dr. Beatty, Mr. Gridley's instructions no arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

SOCIETY

At the urgent request of a number of subscribers, the last in the series of Assembly balls will be given on the evening of April 12th instead of April 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker entertained informally at dinner Friday evening.

Mrs. W. F. Adams was hostess at a small and informal luncheon on Friday at her home.

Covers were laid for eight at the prettily appointed luncheon in honor of Mrs. Thompson on Thursday. Mrs. W. W. Bacon being the hostess. The guests were Mrs. Twomey, Mrs. Timby, Mrs. L. Clark, Mrs. A. Olson, Mrs. H. Perkins, Mrs. Arthur Haynes, Mrs. A. Oakley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scheller announce the engagement of their daughter Lena to Fred Griffin. The marriage will take place early in May.

Miss Juliette Flygare of Ogden is visiting her sister, Mrs. Richard Cogan, at 271 West Fifth South street.

The members of Mrs. E. O. Lee's Sunday-school class will give a Pitt social at the First M. E. church parlors next Tuesday evening, to which all friends will be welcome.

Miss Clara Deal entertained the members of her Sewing club very pleasantly last Wednesday afternoon.

A few friends enjoyed a delightful Kensington yesterday at the home of Mrs. E. L. Arnold. The affair being in honor of her guest, Mrs. Booth, of Wyoming.

Mrs. Oscar Quinn, widow of the late Oscar Quinn, left yesterday for her home in Philadelphia.

Members of the Browning section of the Ladies' Literary club were entertained at luncheon yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Jacobs of Third street.

A quiet wedding, in which many friends will be interested, took place last evening, when Mrs. May Kinsey and James D. Beemer were united in marriage by Rev. William M. Paden of the First Presbyterian church. Only relatives and a few close friends were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding supper at the Wilson. Both the bride and groom are popular employees of the Oregon Shortland railroad, having many friends who will hasten to extend to them their best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Beemer will shortly be at home to their friends at 274 North State street.

Thomas E. Giles is home from a very delightful visit in New York, Washington, Chicago and other Eastern cities, where he had the pleasure, with J. J. McClellan, of enjoying a series of musical treats.

Miss Nellie Flaudreau was hostess at a card party given by the Jolly club Monday evening. The reception room was beautifully draped in the club colors, buff and blue, and carnations ornamented the mantel. High-five was the game of the evening, the prizes being won by the Misses Grady and Zenger. The Messrs. Robinson and Strong. Refreshments were served, during which suitable toasts were given by members of the club. Those present were the Misses Mae Robinson, Emma Diferrent and Nevada street. Misses Kippatrick, Nellie Zenger, Mabel Campbell, Messrs. Charlie Robinson, Marvin Strong, Neph Squires, Arthur Koonitz, Reuben Frankland, Sylvester Vowles, Frank Sidaway, George Vowles.

E. A. Parsons and H. A. Hansen entertained the Billie club at a smoker last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earn Wright have returned home from Denver, where they have been visiting friends prior to Mr. Wright's trip to England.

Miss L. C. Taylor entertained in a charming manner at her rooms in the Constitution building Thursday evening. Progressive sixty-three was played until a late hour, after which refreshments were served. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Christensen, Miss and Mrs. R. M. Smith, Mrs. H. H. Van, Mr. Reed, William H. Nightingale, Herbert Nightingale, Mr. Thompson.

The Independent Girl Sewing club were pleasantly entertained by Miss Ruth Holding Thursday. Conversation, music and sewing were features of the evening. The club adjourned to meet April 5th at the home of Miss May Lewis.

Miss Stella Mulhail entertained at a luncheon Monday afternoon complimentary to Miss Beatrice Macdonald. Covers were laid for twelve. The place cards were cupids done in water colors. "A Literary Romance" was the feature.

Service, 7:45. "The Characteristics of the Real Gospel." A cordial invitation is extended to all. Southwest mission, corner Second and Mead streets—Sunday-school, 4 p. m.; evening service, 7:45.

Christian.

Central Christian church, corner Third East and Fourth South streets—Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. by Dr. T. W. Taylor. John D. at 12:30 p. m.; Junior Endeavor Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m.; prayer at 7:30 p. m.; Sunday-school at 10 a. m.; all are invited to attend these services.

Reorganized.

Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints—Services in Mission chapel, 12:30 p. m.; Junior Endeavor Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m.; prayer at 7:30 p. m.; Sunday-school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m.; sacrament meeting at 2 p. m.; preaching again at 7 p. m.

Beautiful Laundry Work

Is a necessity of modern civilization. We fill every need locally, but our reputation is national.

TROY LAUNDRY, 166 Main street.

$1.00 TELEPHONES.

For Residences.

20 outgoing calls per month. No charge for incoming calls. 25¢ for excess calls.

ture of the afternoon. Mrs. Clarence Post won the prize. Guests were: Miss Beatrice Macdonald, Miss Laura Bird, Miss Ardella Bitter, Miss Helen Robb, Miss Maudie Ray, Misses Macdonald, Mrs. Clarence Post, Mrs. J. N. Dunn, Mrs. W. Macdonald and Mrs. W. Reich.

The "Club de Langue Francaise" met at the home of Mrs. Mary F. Kelly on Friday evening. The following programme was rendered: